

Mia Chin

mchin3170@gmail.com ❖ (647) 281-1601 ❖ Toronto, ON

SUMMARY

Analytically rigorous writer and researcher with a background spanning finance, economics, and consulting. Currently completing a Master's degree in Social & Political Thought, with experience producing long-form market analysis, thought leadership content, strategic communications, and more. Looking to apply skills towards roles in research, writing, and strategy, among others.

EDUCATION

York University

2025 – 2026 (Expected)

MA in Social & Political Thought

Major Research Paper is a mixed-methods (qualitative and quantitative) analysis of systemic risk and financial crisis management from 2008 and onwards.

University of Toronto

2018 – 2022

BA (Honors) (HD) in Philosophy & English

3.9 GPA

RELEVANT EXPERIENCE

Veronica Ford Consulting (Aspire Inc.)

February 2026 to April 2026

Strategy Consultant (Internship)

Remote

- Produced research reports, case studies, and thought leadership content to support strategic initiatives and brand positioning for a boutique social impact consulting firm
- Managed multiple projects and deliverables in a fast-paced, deadline-driven environment, carrying work from initial brief through final publication
- Collaborated within a cross-functional team to align research outputs with stakeholder needs and priorities

Endos (Newsletter)

October 2024 to Present

Writer & Analyst

- Research and publish long-form articles on financial markets and macroeconomics. Past topics include the rise of prediction markets, labor market dynamics, and theories of financial instability
- Apply Python and Excel for data cleaning, statistical analysis, and visualization, translating complex datasets into visual narratives that reinforce written content
- Develop and maintain a content strategy that integrates original, data-driven perspectives with developments in finance, technology, and current events

University of Toronto

January 2024 – April 2025

Notetaker

Toronto, Canada

- Produced organized and detailed lecture notes for students with accessibility accommodations in Humanities and Economics courses, working closely with the Accessibility Services department

SKILLS

- Research & Analysis: Macroeconomic, thematic, and equity research; financial modelling; business analysis
- Data Analysis & Visualization: Microsoft Excel, Python, SQL; Tableau
- Writing & Communication: Business and editorial writing, research presentation; proofreading, editing
- Tools & Platforms: AI tools for coding and other workflows (Claude, ChatGPT/Codex); Bloomberg Terminal